Ms. Nava shared the recommendation of the jury: 16 sculptures and 2 alternates selected among 28 proposals received. Commissioners Hinton, Fairbanks and Hicks comprised the jury and provided insight into their decision as Ms. Nava shared the images. Commissioner Grisham questioned why there were several artists with two sculptures each. Ms. Johnson noted that it was more common than not for a still relatively new program with a limited response from artists.

Commissioner Williams move to recommend 16 sculptures and 2 alternates (as recommended by the jury) for City Council approval, seconded by Commissioner Hinton. The motion was approved, with Vice-Chair Grisham abstaining, preferring a wider cross-section of artists represented.
