4.B 15-1126 Proposed Zoning and Buffer Changes for Cannabis Land Uses

Mr. Grabowski reviewed the proposed zoning and buffer changes for cannabis land uses. He presented the current marijuana zoning for the east and west areas of Olympia. Current zoning consists of High Density Corridor Four (HDC-4) and General Commercial (GC) zones with a 1000 foot buffer. He presented a proposal with a zoning and buffer change that would add High Density Corridor 3 (HDC-3) and Medical Services (MS) zones with a 1000 foot buffer for both the east and west areas of Olympia, and a second proposal that would add HDC-3 and MS zones with a 500 foot buffer for both the east and west areas of Olympia.

The following people from the public spoke:

Rainier Express Volunteer Adam Cooper said Rainier Express, 322 4th Ave E, is a medical marijuana collective Downtown. He urged the Committee to reconsider allowing Rainier Express to remain in its' downtown location because it is more accessible for veterans to use their services. He described a program called 22 Too Many, which is an organization committed to honoring veterans and active duty military who have died by suicide or due to a PTS (post-traumatic stress) related tragedy.

22 Too Many Treasurer Andrew Collins said he is the accountant for Rainier Express. He expressed concerns if they are forced to relocate. They currently are a location for a "safe place" for those in distress to come and get help. They have been making efforts to find out from the young people who hang out at the Artesian Well Park what programs may help them if they are in need of help. Also they have helped out in cleaning up the Artesian Well Park. He agreed being downtown makes it more accessible for veterans to use their services.

22 Too Many member Wade Green spoke in favor of Rainier Express and 22 Too Many remaining downtown area for easy accessibility to veterans.

Olympia Alternative Medicine owner Steve Moore, 2405 Harrison Ave, said his business is currently located in a HDC-3 zone. He spoke in favor of the addition of the HDC-3 zone to the current zoning plan and reducing the buffer to 500 feet.

The Committee discussed comments and issues brought before them by the public.

Committee member Hankins expressed concern about reducing the buffer and about adopting interim regulations without additional outreach to the land owners within affected areas and the public in general.

Chair Langer moved, seconded by Committee member Roe, to recommend accepting the proposal of adding the HDC-3 and MS zones with a buffer reduction to 500 feet. The motion carried by the following vote:

Aye: 2 - Chair Langer and Committee member Roe

Nay: 1 - Committee member Hankins
