Background and Analysis:

In 2020, more than 70 demonstrations occurred in Olympia, Washington, several of which resulted in injuries to community members and police officers, significant property damage, and widespread disturbances to the community's sense of public safety and security. In order to learn from those events and ensure that the Olympia Police Department (OPD) follows best practices for public demonstrations and crowd management, the City of Olympia commissioned a comprehensive review.

While the review found that OPD's event responses were within its existing policies, the study identified several ways in which the Department could improve. The briefing will include an update on what the Department is doing to address recommendations identified in the review.
