Background

Pursuant to Civil Service Rule V, Section 4, Removal of Names from Register, Chief Roberts requested that four names be removed from the Entry Level Police Officer Register based on the police background investigation, psychological examination, physical agility examination, or medical physical examination containing negative findings or that the candidate failed the medical physical or physical agility examinations.

The specific reasons for removal were reviewed by the Secretary-Examiner, and the reason has been determined to be supported by factual and verifiable information. In the interest of maintaining confidentiality for those candidates whose names were removed from the register, this report does not contain the specific reasons for requesting removal.

Findings:

The following candidates are not considered eligible for further consideration, because they did not successfully complete one or more phases of the selection process that police officer candidates undergo after being placed on the register: Yevgen Kozhushko, Daniel Esselstrom, Michael Cole, and Taylor MuCulloch. The candidates were notified in writing and no candidates have appealed.
